

ETP SYMPOSIUM INC.

Scientific Conference Management

BACKGROUND

ETP Symposium Inc. (ETP) specializes in organizing and running scientific conferences. Founded in 2006 as a non-profit corporation, ETP is committed to organizing and operating educational seminars and forums, and to the development of interdisciplinary opportunities for researchers and scientists in the life sciences area. ETP is well known in the scientific community and specifically as it relates to mass spectrometry.

A full listing of events organized by ETP is appended.

In addition to offering our services to others, ETP successfully runs its own Symposium entitled International Symposium on Enabling Technologies (see www.etsymposium.org). ETP's roots are based in a research environment. The ETP Symposium was created as part of a collaborative project including: Genome Canada (through its regional offices Genome Prairie/Genome Alberta), SCIEX, University of Victoria, University of Alberta, University of Manitoba, Queens' University at Kingston, and Le Centre Hospitalier Universitaire de Québec (CHUQ). The project title was: The Development of Enabling Technologies for Proteomics and Genomics.

ETP manages two awards:

1) The Ken Standing Award established in 2006 to honour the lifetime achievement of Dr. Kenneth Standing, Professor Emeritus, Dept. of Physics and Astronomy at the University of Manitoba. This award is presented at the biennial ETP Symposium to a young scientist who has made a significant contribution to the development of technology related to the life sciences.

2) The Bill Davidson Graduate Student Travel Award established in 2012 to honour ETP's co-founder, Bill Davidson, who passed away suddenly in 2009. This award is presented biennially at the ETP Symposium. The Awardees are selected from nominations by ETP's Scientific Advisory Board. A complete list of members may be found on the ETP Symposium website.
